Sarah,

As you know, Eric gave us permission to contact you directly, and as you can see, I am only sending this message to you and to Nik. I'm not cc'ing Eric and I'm not cc'ing Nik's local counsel.

I have a very simple yes/no question I want to ask -- would you be willing to get on the phone and talk directly to Nik to see if you guys can settle this case? What I'm proposing is a conference call between you, me, and Nik. That's it. If you would feel more comfortable with Eric on the line, that's OK with me, but this isn't the sort of discussion that requires lawyers.

So, if you're interested in talking, just let me know.

Mr. Deters,

Do you still represent Nathan Wilburn? I understand that you or another attorney in your firm represented him during his deposition a long time ago, but I am unclear as to whether that is still the case.

If you no longer represent Mr. Wilburn, please let me know as soon as possible.

Thanks.

Ms. Jones,

I am copying your counsel on this response. I cannot have direct contact with you because you are represented by counsel. All communications from you must come to me through your attorneys. I do not intend to sound harsh and but ethically we cannot communicate directly. Thank you.
